PRESS RELEASE

SEND GHANA APPOINTS COUNTRY DIRECTOR

As SEND GHANA celebrate on 8th August 26 years of impactful pro-poor research and policy advocacy, management is pleased to inform the public that the Board of Directors has appointed the organization's first female Country Director, Ms. Harriet Nuamah Agyemang. Her appointment takes effect from August 1st, 2024.

Ms. Nuamah Agyemang joined SEND GHANA in August 2003 after her National Service and subsequently served as Project Officer and Communications Officer. For nearly a decade, she held the role of Senior Programme officer overseeing SEND's Southern Ghana Program. Ms. Nuamah Agyemang is credited for spearheading the organization's Making Ghana's Budget Work for Equity Initiative. Since 2021, she has been leading the Epidemic Preparedness Financing Campaign. This campaign brings together professional bodies in the health sector, academia, traditional leaders, and civil society organizations to advocate for the establishment of a statutory Fund by the Ghana government to support health emergencies. She brings to her new position 21 years of experience working in the civil society sector and leading SEND's advocacy programs at national and sub-national levels in the health, education, agriculture and governance sectors.

As Country Director, Ms. Nuamah Agyemang will be responsible for providing strategic leadership for the management and operations of SEND. Her priorities include: strengthening the regional synergies between SEND GHANA, SEND Liberia, and SEND Sierra Leone to leverage capacities, learning and sharing, and to strengthen partnerships with the government and other civil society organizations. She will lead the organization to live its foundational object of being a social enterprise, contributing to the economic improvement of its principals, and upholding high levels of integrity. Additionally, she will innovate and adapt SEND programming to the changing landscape to remain relevant in the advocacy and livelihood space.

Ms. Nuamah Agyemang holds a master's in development studies from the University of Ghana, Bachelor of Arts in Integrated Development Studies from University for Development Studies, and a Diploma in Journalism from the Ghana Institute of Journalism.
